

HONORS PROJECT FOR BIOSCHOLARS

Los Angeles Mission College (LAMC) has numerous agreements with university and college campuses that give students who participate in the honors program various transfer application advantages, the most important being priority admission. If you are interested in transferring to UCLA, we have a special honors transfer program called UCLA Transfer Alliance/Honors Program (TAP).

The TAP Program is designed for motivated students who plan on transferring to a four-year college or university. It consists of academically enriched general education courses in which both written expression and the critical analysis of ideas are stressed. The TAP program offers participating students priority admissions to UCLA and additional opportunities at other universities. Both current and new students may apply to be part of the TAP program.

For more information contact Dr. Fenton (FentonMS@lamission.edu) and visit the honors website <http://www.lamission.edu/Honors/Home.aspx>.

Honors project in Mathematics courses (Math 245 & 260)

Contact Professors Samii (samiib@lamission.edu) or Akl (AklCE@lamission.edu) for more details.

Honors project in Life Sciences courses

Contact Dr. Par (mohammp@lamission.edu) for more details.

Any expert faculty can take on the supervision/mentorship of the honors project as long as the agreement is communicated, and approval is received from the teaching faculty.