The U.S. Supreme Court Historical Society

The Society, a private non-profit organization, is dedicated to the collection and preservation of the history of the Supreme Court of the United States. Incorporated in the District of Columbia in 1974, it was founded by Chief Justice Warren E. Burger, who served as its first honorary chairman.

The Society accomplishes its mission by conducting educational programs, supporting historical research, publishing books, journals, and electronic materials, and by collecting antiques and artifacts related to the Court's history. These activities and others increase the public's awareness of the Court's contributions to our nation's rich constitutional heritage.

The society's website offers several resources to students including the history and function of the supreme court as well as a gift shop. For information on a college report or just to browse around, visit them at supremecourthistory.org

Visit the California Supreme Court in Los Angeles

The California Supreme Court is coming to Los Angeles in October. The court's main location is located in San Francisco however, the justices travel to Los Angeles at least twice a year to hear cases. They will be in Los Angeles hearing oral arguments during the week of October 5 through the 9th. The supreme court is located in the Ronald Reagan building at 300 S. Spring Street in downtown Los Angeles. Students are welcome to attend and may even hear a death penalty case. Students are advised to dress business casual and must go through two security checkpoints. Visiting the court is a very interesting experience and is highly recommended. See if your instructors might even give you extra credit. Call the court at 213-830-7570.
