The meeting started at 11:45am. Introductions were made around the table then lunch was served. During lunch, Kelly updated the committee on the recommendations made during the last board meeting and which recommendations were implemented. Michael Hoffman was impressed that we had been offering the oral interview workshops and the AJ scholarship as the committee had recommended last year.

David updated the committee on what was new in the Paralegal program. David discussed his new faculty member Henry Soledad and the new hybrid class and adopting further hybrid classes.

During the round table discussion, several members recommended that both Paralegal and AJ create opportunities for students to participate in internships with outside agencies such as the Los Angeles County Probation Department, U.S. Secret Service and A.T.F. Internships would be an ideal way for students to be introduced to careers in various fields and at the same time possibly receive college credit.
The committee also discussed the importance of ethics being covered in all Paralegal and AJ courses. David and Kelly discussed with the board the idea of creating a course where students would participate and follow a criminal case from start to finish. The course would start with a crime being committed, typically a murder, then have students play the roles of investigator, prosecutor, judge, jury and public defender. Monroe High School might be able to partner with us on this since they have a fully functional court room on their campus. Many of the member thought this would be a great project for students to engage in.

The meeting adjourned at 1:40pm.
