- - - -
He compared L.A. and Mexico City (which he knew well) to volcanoes, spilling wreckage and desire in ever-widening circles over a denuded countryside. It was never wise, he averred, to live too near a volcano.

- Mike Davis, City of Quartz

When I am in California, I am not in the West. I am west of the West.

- Theodore Roosevelt

Course Description and Theme

MyPearson Cafe's MyWritingLab Information

To get access to the online portion of the course (MyWritingLab), you will need your own email address. You will also need the following:

1. This access code: english71269

2. The code on the Student Access Code Card provided with your copy of Research Simplified, which is available at the bookstore with the other books for this course.

The online portion of the course is mandatory. I will say more about this requirement in class. For more detailed information about how to access Pearson and even a video that shows you how to log in, see the attached sheet from Pearson at the end of the syllabus.

Course Requirements/Grade Breakdown

Attendance, participation (including peer review, group work, and quizzes): 15%

Pearson MyLab online: 15%

Final exam: 10%

Presentation: 10%

Essays: 50% total

Assignment 1: 5%

Assignments 2-4: 10% each

Assignment 5: 15%

Assignments

Essays. Assignment #1 will serve as a self-introduction to your classmates to be posted to the course discussion board. It will also serve as practice at memoir. Assignment #2 offers practice in unstructured textual analysis--no thesis statement necessary. Assignment #3 asks for a function outline of a coherent essay with a thesis statement. Assignment #4 requires each student to put her ideas in conversation with other critics and to make a persuasive argument for the validity of her own point of view. Assignment #5 challenges each student to do all of the above while supporting her claims with independent research.

Quizzes. Regular unannounced quizzes will be used to help you keep up with the reading. These cannot be made up for any reason (including tardiness), but the lowest quiz grade will be dropped.

Workshops. You will be asked to prepare for and participate in one or more peer-review workshops. Workshop preparation and participation will be graded. Details and a handout for the workshops will be forthcoming.

Presentation. 1) Describe and narrate your experience of a place (such as your own neighborhood), paying special attention to the way the built environment and its design have influenced your experience and 2) report on your research into the history of the place. Your final research project can be based on this presentation. Length: 5-10 minutes. Use of A/V aids is encouraged. Please let me know in advance what media you will need so I can provide it (if possible) on the day of your presentation. Note: pay especially close attention to the reading by Mike Davis, "Fortress L.A.," for a model of how to conduct a critical analysis of an urban space. Also, I encourage you to base Assignment #5, the research paper, on this presentation. Instructions: Come to class on 9/6 with at least two possible topics in mind. Students will be selected at random and asked for their topics. You will also be asked to sign up for a presentation slot on the course schedule on 9/6. Presentations will begin during Week 3. See below for a list of possible presentation topics.

Presentation Topic Ideas [Note: if you would like to choose a topic not on the list, please ask me about it in advance.]

-your own Southern California neighborhood (history, description, analysis)

-another neighborhood or area in L.A. or Southern California (Venice, Chinatown, Chavez Ravine, Hollywood, the Valley, Downtown, Westlake, Malibu, Santa Monica, Torrance, South L.A., Watts, Compton, Jefferson Park, East L.A., West Hollywood, Koreatown, Boyle Heights, Echo Park, Highland Park, Pasadena, Bunker Hill, Chinatown, etc.)

-an open public space or park in SoCal (examples: MacArthur Park, Olvera Street, Griffith Park, the Santa Monica Pier, the L.A. River)

-a privately owned attraction, building or space in SoCal (examples: Beverly Center, Universal Studios, The Grove, the Bradbury Building, L.A. Live, Dodger Stadium, Gamble House)

-a state- or city-owned historic monument or structure (examples: El Pueblo Monument, Union Station, Watts Towers, Heritage Square Park, L.A. Central Library)

Classroom Etiquette

This writing classroom is an electronics-free zone. Phones must be silenced and put away before class begins. MP3 players, laptops, tablets, etc., are not allowed in class except when permission has been granted in advance. See also: "Attendance Policy."

If you miss a class, it is your responsibility to contact a classmate and ask about any work or assignments that were missed. You are also responsible for turning in any work that is due the day that you return to class.

Attendance Policy

Absences beyond five for any reason will earn you a deduction of 5% from your course grade per absence. Chronic tardiness will also hurt your grade.

Policy on Late Work

Work turned in late will receive a daily deduction.

Communication

I will communicate with the class via e-mail and MyPearson Cafe and may occasionally post required course materials online. Please check your e-mail regularly so that you do not miss any messages about posts to Blackboard, changes to assignments or changes to the schedule. It is your responsibility to follow any instructions for completing assignments and downloading or reading course materials online.

Submitting Your Work

Hard copies of essay assignments will be collected at the beginning of class on due dates. Papers should be formatted according to MLA guidelines. Citations should also be in MLA format. Occasionally, I may request an electronic copy of your assignment instead. Please pay attention to instructions about how and when to turn in work since they may vary from assignment to assignment.

Late work (see "Policy on Late Work" above) should be e-mailed to me unless I specify otherwise. If an essay is turned in electronically, feedback may also be given electronically.

Explanation of Grading (Rubric)

"A" paper: An "A" paper is an excellent essay and is free from careless grammatical, spelling, and organizational errors. It begins with a clear thesis. It has seamless transitions from paragraph to paragraph, never losing sight of its focal point. It draws a logical conclusion that answers a problem stated in the thesis. It meets the length requirement of the assignment. It has an original point of view that is lively and interesting to read. It has no format errors and is turned in on time. An "A" represents a writing level of unusual polish and style, and often takes a surprising angle in developing the thesis. This level of writing is rare because it shows consistent excellence. It always surpasses assignment expectations.

"B" paper: A "B" paper is a good essay and has many of the qualities found in an "A" paper, but it might have one too many writing errors. It often lacks the depth of explanation and originality seen in an "A" paper. It represents solid, readable writing that does what the assignment asks. "B" level writing demonstrates concrete support for claims, fine organization, and substantive thoughtfulness.

"C" paper: A "C" paper is an adequate essay. It may have errors but not enough to hurt its clarity. It shows some of the qualities of an "A" or a "B" paper, but it does not develop the idea to its fullest. It is adequately organized but is rather simplistic. It satisfies all the requirements of the assignment, but it lacks sufficient, concrete support needed to illustrate its assertions or prove its point. It also shows lapses in editing proficiency and contains careless errors.

"D" paper: A "D" paper is inadequate. It contains all of some of the following problems: it is too short, has many errors, lacks clarity and focus, lacks logical organization, rambles, is too general, or doesn't satisfy the requirements of the assignment.

"F" paper: An "F" paper is off-topic, poorly written and contains too many errors in grammar, mechanics and spelling.

English 28 Student Learning Outcomes (SLO's)

- 1) Produce a 350-500 word essay, utilizing standard rhetorical modes and maintaining unity and coherence. 2) Produce a 4 to 5 page research paper which supports an argument. For the SLO's of this and other courses, see: <http://www.lamission.edu/facstaff/slo/courseslos.aspx?disid=27>.

This course supports the LAMC Institutional Program Learning Outcomes (PLOs).

PLEASE NOTE: You will be surveyed towards the end of the semester to garner how well we have met these outcomes.

As a result of the English or Speech course that should be able to:

- a) Research information
- b) Evaluate information
- c) Solve problems and use logical reasoning (critical thinking) and to develop strategies for solutions
- d) Analyze global issues from multiple perspectives
- e) Communicate the merits of works of art, music, or literature
- f) Make value judgments and ethical decisions

The following chart shows how your courses meet these PLOs.

Institutional PLOs	How English addresses these PLOs
Written and Oral Communication Students will demonstrate the interactive nature of communication involving speaking, writing, listening and reading. Evidence will be the student’s ability to make a clear, well-organized verbal presentation employing appropriate evidence to support the arguments or conclusions and to write a clear, well-organized paper using documentation and quantitative tools when appropriate.	PLO 1: Analyze written text to identify underlying logic and point of view Develop a well-organized paper which develops cogent main ideas stated in a thesis and which has adequate support for statements made.
Information Competency Students will demonstrate information competency by combining aspects of library literacy, research methods and technological literacy. It includes consideration of ethical and legal implications of information and requires the application of both critical thinking and communication skills. Evidence will be the ability to find, evaluate, use, and communicate information in all its various formats.	PLO 2: Utilize diverse sources of information, to research a topic. Attribute quotes and other information gleaned from print and electronic sources, according to MLA style
Problem Solving Students will demonstrate the ability to solve problems by examining, selecting, using and evaluating various approaches to developing solutions. Evidence will be the ability to observe and draw reasonable inferences from observations, distinguish between relevant and irrelevant data, define problems, analyze the structure of discipline or profession-based problem solving frameworks and to use such frameworks and strategies to develop solutions.	PLO 3: Evaluate arguments for validity, objectivity and soundness Argue a point after having gathered and synthesized relevant information, data and evidence.
Aesthetic Responsiveness Students will demonstrate aesthetic responsiveness by taking a position on and communicating the merits of specific works of art, music and literature and how those works reflect human values. Evidence will be written or oral communications that articulate a personal response to works of art, explain how personal and formal factors shape that response and connect works of art to broader contexts.	PLO 4: Critique text in terms of style and relate a text to the period in which it was written.
Ethics and Values applied to decision-making: Students will demonstrate facility in making value judgments and ethical decisions by analyzing and formulating the value foundation/framework of a specific area of knowledge in its theory and practice or in a professional context. Evidence will be the ability to identify own values, infer and analyze values in artistic and humanistic works as well as scientific and technological developments and to engage in values-inflected and ethical decision-making in multiple contexts.	PLO 5: Distinguish fallacies in arguments and be able to recognize the validity or lack of validity of various points of view.
