

History 2: Introduction to Western Civilization II

A continuation of History 1 from the 17th Century to the present emphasizing those events and developments most significant in shaping our world today.

Fall 2012 Section 0287 INST 1003

Wednesdays 2:00 – 5:10 pm

Prof. D'Art Phares

Office location: Instructional Complex #11

Phone: (818) 364 - 7681 Email: pharesd@lamission.edu

Office hours: T-Th 8:30-9:00am; M-Th 12:05-1:05pm; W 5:10-5:40pm

REQUIRED TEXTBOOK

- WCIV, Volume II. Gavin Lewis. ISBN:9781111342548

SCHEDULE (note: schedule may change!)

Week	Starts	Topic(s)	Chapters
1	8/27	Introduction/Overview; Introduction to History
2	9/3	Overview: The themes of modern Western history
3	9/10	Political & Economic Changes 1500-1700	18
4	9/17	Intellectual Changes, 1500-1700	19
5	9/24	American & French Revolutions	20
6	10/1	French Revolutions & Napoleon	20
7	10/8	The Age of Revolutions	21
8	10/15	Written Test 1 & The Industrial Revolution	22
9	10/22	Science, Socialism, & The New Imperialism	23 & 24
10	10/29	WWI	25
11	11/5	The Interwar Era	26
12	11/12	WWII	27
13	11/19	The Cold War Era	29
14	11/26	The Post-Cold War West	31
15	12/3	Modern Culture
		Final Exam (Quiz & Written Test 2): Wednesday Dec. 12, 3:00 – 5:00 pm

IMPORTANT DATES

DEADLINES: Classes begin – 8/27 Last day to add – 9/7 Last day to drop with no fee – 9/10 Last day to drop without a W – 9/9 Last day to drop – 11/18	HOLIDAYS: Labor Day – Sept. 3 Veteran's Day – Nov. 12 Thanksgiving – Nov. 22-25
---	---

STUDENT LEARNING OUTCOMES

Upon completion of this course, students will be able to:

- 1) Critically analyze the political/diplomatic development of America from its origins to 1865.
- 2) Critically analyze the economic development of America from its origins to 1865.
- 3) Critically analyze the social/cultural development of America from its origins to 1865.

GRADING

Quizzes (6)	50 points each	250 points total
Written Exams (2)	100 points each	200 points total
Participation	See below	100 points total

- NO EXTRA-CREDIT ASSIGNMENTS
- QUIZZES (weeks 3, 6, 9, 12, 15, and on the day of the final) are all cumulative. They may include multiple choice, matching, short written answer, and timeline questions.
- WRITTEN EXAMS (mid-term & final) involve lengthy, essay-type questions. Scoring on these is based on content and, to a much lesser extent, presentation (writing skills, such as proper grammar). Quality of argument and use of evidence will be central. Clarity, accuracy, and precision in written English, however, are vital. See the rubric below.
- EXAM RULES:
 - No make-up exams will be given. Don't bother asking; the answer is no. I will drop your lowest quiz score. NOTE: any grade given for plagiarism/cheating may NOT be dropped.
 - No dictionaries are allowed during exams. Cell phones and all electronic devices must be turned off and kept out of sight. NO BATHROOM BREAKS DURING EXAMS.
 - You will need a SMALL bluebook and a pen for each written test. Please bring them to class with you. Do not reuse old bluebooks. DO NOT WRITE ON SCANTRONS OR BLUEBOOKS UNTIL TOLD TO DO SO.
- PARTICIPATION is determined by:
 - Homework: Students will submit brief written answers to questions regarding the reading in the book each week. This is done through the Moodle website.
 - Class conduct: This includes your participation in class discussions and your professional/collegial behavior in class.
 - Please NO TEXTING IN THIS CLASS!! Cell phones should be turned off or on vibrate. If you are caught texting, initially I will ask you to pay attention however, that will be my only warning. If you continue to text, I will ask you to leave, and it will impact your grade in a most painful way.
- ATTENDANCE is expected and is vital to your grade. No penalty for up to 3 hours absent. Absences of more than 3 hours begin to lower your overall course grade. Absences of more than 9 hours make it impossible to pass the course. Tardies count as 1/3 of an absence. CONTACT ME IF A PROBLEM ARISES.

RUBRIC FOR WRITTEN TESTS

	Unsatisfactory	Minimal	Proficient	Exemplary
Factual Content: Demonstrates content (factual) knowledge and understanding of the material in question.	The student shows minimal understanding by (1) not addressing or incorrectly addressing the relevant content (2) not addressing key concepts or main ideas (3) providing irrelevant or inaccurate unsubstantiated examples and (4) incorrectly using terminology.	The student shows marginal understanding by (1) barely touching on the relevant content (2) poorly addressing key concepts or main ideas (3) not substantiating points with relevant or accurate examples (4) inadequately using terminology.	The student shows some understanding by correctly (1) addressing the most critical content (2) addressing some key concepts and main ideas (3) substantiating some points with accurate examples (4) using some correct terminology.	The student shows exemplary understanding by thoroughly and correctly (1) addressing the relevant content (2) addressing the key concepts and main ideas (3) substantiating points with accurate examples (4) extensively using correct terminology.
Reasoning: Demonstrates the ability to reason, evaluate, argue, compare/contrast, weigh importance, etc.	The student does not reason with the assigned materials or address the given question.	Although some thinking is evident, weaknesses may include: (1) poorly synthesized material (2) inappropriate connections between points or topics (3) presenting a weak argument (4) poor evidence (5) presenting an incorrect evaluation or analysis	The student can: (1) synthesize material (2) make appropriate connections between points (3) present an argument (4) support the argument with evidence (5) adequately evaluate or analyze material.	The student expertly: (1) synthesizes material (2) makes connections between relevant points (3) presents a well-reasoned and convincing argument (4) supports the argument with solid evidence (5) presents insightful, thorough evaluations or analyses
Communication: Communicates with the reader.	Unable to write well enough for scorer to understand answer. Disjointed, unclear, and/or vague sentences. No organization. A plethora of spelling, punctuation or mechanics errors. Illegible.	Ideas are fragmented, wandering, and/or repetitive, so that it is hard to understand text. Poor or weak ability to express thoughts. Reader must infer intent. Material is poorly organized. Many mechanical errors. Handwriting is difficult to read.	Student is mostly clear, concise and only addresses the assigned task so that the content is understandable. Material is fairly well organized. Some spelling, punctuation or mechanics errors. Writing is mostly legible.	Ideas are sequenced and logical; content is easy to understand. Student is clear, concise and only addresses the assigned task. Material is well organized. Few or no spelling, punctuation or mechanics errors. Writes legibly.

DEPARTMENTAL POLICIES

Cheating- unauthorized material used during an examination (including electronic devices), changing answers after work has been graded, taking an exam for another student, forging or altering attendance sheets or other documents in the course, looking at another student's paper/scantron/essay/computer or exam with or without their approval is considered cheating. Any student caught cheating will receive a zero for the assignment/exam (a grade that may not be dropped) and be referred to the Department chair and/or Student Services for further disciplinary action.

Plagiarism- Plagiarism is defined as the act of using the ideas, words, or work of another person or persons as if they were one's own, without giving proper credit to the original sources. This includes definitions found online on Wikipedia, materials from blogs, twitter, or other similar electronic resources. The following examples are intended to be representative, but not all-inclusive:

- Failing to give credit by proper citations for others' ideas and concepts, data and information, statements and phrases, and/or interpretations and conclusions
- Failing to use quotation marks when quoting directly from another, whether it be a paragraph, a sentence, or a part thereof
- Paraphrasing the expressions or thought by others without appropriate quotation marks or attribution
- Representing another's artistic/scholarly works (such as essays, computer programs, photographs, paintings, drawings, sculptures) or similar works as one's own.

For a first offense, you will receive a zero for the assignment in question. Multiple offenses may result in expulsion from the class, as determined by the disciplinary action of the Office of Student Services.

Please note: plagiarism on any homework assignment results in a zero grade for the homework as a whole.

Recording devices in the classroom: Section 78907 of the California Education Code prohibits the use of any electronic audio or video recording devices, without prior consent of the instructor. (This includes cell phones, laptops, MP3 players, cameras, and other recording devices)

Reasonable Accommodations: If you are a student with a disability who qualifies for accommodations through DSP&S, please contact me privately. The sooner I am aware of your eligibility for accommodations, the quicker I will be able to assist the DSP&S Office in providing them. For students with disabilities, the DSP&S Office at Mission College provides special assistance in areas like: registering for courses, specialized tutoring, note-taking, mobility assistance, special instruction, testing assistance, special equipment, special materials, instructor liaisons, community referrals and job placement. If you have not done so already, you may also wish to contact the DSP&S Office in Instructional Building 1018 (phone 818/364-7732 TTD 818/364-7861) and bring me a letter indicating what accommodations are needed.

Medical conditions: If you have and conditions that I need to know about, please notify me immediately by email.

Emergencies: Please program the Campus Sheriff's phone number in your cell: 818 364-7843

Student Portal: update your email address, view your schedule and grades from past semesters through the portal. www.lamission.edu – "students" – "My Mission student portal access" If you have not yet changed your pin it's your birthdate (MMDD)

SKILLS

The most important skills for students include reading and writing, note-taking, and studying. And amazingly, most students have never had lessons on how to improve these skills. With a little practice, it's possible to become much better at these skills, thus saving you considerable time each week.

Reading for Meaning

Reading textbooks effectively is a learned skill that requires much more than simply the ability to read. There are specific techniques designed to allow you to gather the maximum information in the minimum time.

The following sites have excellent lessons to help you develop your reading skills

<http://www.dartmouth.edu/~acskills/success/reading.html>

<http://www.uwgb.edu/tutoring/resources/howtoread.asp>

<http://www.ocean.edu/ReadColText/HowToReadCollegeTextDrJohnWeber.htm>

<http://academic.cuesta.edu/acasupp/as/306.htm>

Note-taking

Like reading textbooks, note-taking is a learned skill, and there are several vital shortcuts that can make taking notes easier and at the same time make your notes more useful for studying. We will discuss one popular note-taking system, the Cornell system in class.

These websites also offer valuable tips on taking better notes:

<http://jerz.setonhill.edu/writing/academic/notes2.htm>

<http://www.dartmouth.edu/~acskills/success/notes.html>

<http://www.collegeboard.com/student/plan/college-success/955.html>

http://collegeuniversity.suite101.com/article.cfm/how_to_take_effective_class_notes

How to Study

The single most important part of getting good grades—study skills—remains largely unknown to most students. The greatest difference, in fact, between high-GPA students and other students is that high-GPA students have, at some point, learned how to effectively study. Most people forget almost 2/3 of what they hear or read within a single day if they don't study, and yet for most students, studying is given less time each week than reading or note-taking.

These are great sites to help you learn how to study most efficiently:

<http://www.usnews.com/education/best-colleges/articles/2008/08/21/advice-on-how-to-study-in-college.html>

<http://www.studygs.net/>

<http://www.dartmouth.edu/~acskills/success/study.html>

Resources:

There are extensive resources available to help you succeed in school. I'm one. Too often, few students come by during my office hours; I encourage each of you to try and stop by at least once during the semester, and ideally you'll come in sometime during the first 3 weeks. If you don't have a question or a problem, come by and introduce yourself. Come by with a friend if you wish. Get comfortable talking with instructors; it will prove beneficial throughout your school career.

In addition, the state is spending a ton of money to provide you with assistance. Please take full advantage of the following resources at Los Angeles Mission College:

- Counseling Department: Many students never see a college counselor, and that's a pity. Counselors are trained to assist you in many different ways, from career guidance, to helping you take the classes that will benefit you most and get you rapidly to your goals. For appointments or information call 818-364-7655 or visit <http://www.lamission.edu/counseling/>
- Disabled Students Programs and Services: DSP&S is a support system that enables students to fully participate in the college's regular programs and activities. It provides a variety of services from academic and vocational support to assistance with Financial Aid. All services are individualized according to specific needs. For appointments and information call 818-364-7732 or visit <http://www.lamission.edu/dsps/>
- Extended Opportunity Programs and Services: EOP&S is a state-funded program dedicated to assisting students with social, economic, academic or language disadvantages. Students may receive academic, career, and personal counseling, tutoring, book grants and other services. For appointments and information call 818-364-7645 or visit <http://www.lamission.edu/eops/>
- Financial Aid: Some 75% of Mission students qualify for some form of financial aid; only about a third of those actually receive it. Contact the Financial Aid Office for information and application forms. They will even help you fill out the necessary forms! For information and applications call 818-364-7648 or visit <http://www.lamission.edu/financialaid/>
- LAMC Bookstore: For hours of operation, book availability, buybacks, and other information call 818-364-7798 or 364-7768 or visit: <http://www.lamissionbookstore.com/> The website even tells you what textbooks are required for each class and how much they cost.
- Library: Many students never speak with a librarian. But the best students have learned: librarians are trained to help you find the types of information you need, whether you're doing a short oral report or a 10 page research paper. They're a great resource, and are happy to help. For information on library hours, resources, and other services contact 818-364-7105 or 364-7106 or <http://www.lamission.edu/library/>
- Tutoring Services in Learning Center: At some schools, students must pay for tutoring services, and these services don't come cheap. LAMC offers free tutoring!! If you can use help, take advantage of this great offer. Laboratories for Learning, Writing, Math & Science. Walk-in and appointment services offered. Call 818-364-7754 or visit <http://www.lamission.edu/learningcenter>