

ID 103
Section 0307
Spring 2014
Instructor: Sharon Anderson
Class Time : 12:15-3:25 p.m.

Course Objective:

This class will offer each student class time to work on various projects for classes in which they are enrolled in the Interior Design Program.

Recommended text: The Design of Every Day Things/ Don Norman ISBN 978-0-465-05065-9

Ebook: 978-0-465-00394-5

Student SLO

At the completion of the course, the student will:

Work creatively in a classroom setting

Identify learning objectives

Apply knowledge learned

Develop study skills

Be resourceful

Create projects through development of interior design skills required in the professional world of interior design.

Expectations weekly in class:

Students are expected to come to class prepared each week. If not, grade will be affected.

Supply the instructor with syllabi from other classes in which they are enrolled.

All students expected to be present for class time. Arriving late and Leaving early will affect the grade. If you do not sign in at the end of each full session, attendance credit will not be given.

Classes start February 11th Tuesday and the last class is June 3. A mandatory sign in will be required the last day of class to receive a passing grade.

The instructor will provide additional assignments if needed.

Grading: uses time wisely each week, prepared to work, on time and does not leave early- A

Uses time wisely, prepared to work, arrives on time and does not leave early -B

Does not use time wisely, is not prepared more than once, arrives late and/or leaves early- C

Does not use time wisely, not prepared, more than 3 times, arrives late, leaves early -D

Below above requirement -F

All students are required to attend class. A student may be dropped for non-attendance.

