COURSE SYLLABUS - HISTORY 2 – WESTERN CIVILIZATION PART 2

L.A. Mission College - Fall 2014 - Section No. 3184

Thursdays 6:50 to 10:00 P.M. Room: INST 1003

Text: Levack, et al., The West: Encounters and Transformations (vol. II) (4th Ed.) Books a la Carte edition, ISBN numbers 0205949223 and 9780205949229.

The professor's Office Hours are: Thursdays 5:50 - 6:50 p.m., or by appointment, in INST (Instructional Building) Cubicle # 28. His telephone number is (818) 364-7600 ext. 4157.

History 2 is the second part of a two-course series. The first part, History 1, covers the history of Western Civilization from Paleolithic times through the 17th century. This course will cover the history of Western Civilization from the 17th century to the present.

You will be expected to read the assigned text (Levack, et al.) carefully. The chapters you need to read are chapters 15 through 28.

In the first half of the course, reading usually one chapters per week, we will cover the period from the 17th century through 1871. This material is located in chapters 15 through 21 of the text. There is a Quiz and a Midterm Exam concerning that material. The second half of the course runs from about 1871 to the present, material which is covered in chapters 22 through 28. Another Quiz and then the Final Exam will be focused primarily on the history of those years.

Quizzes and Exams will count for 100% of your grade. They will be structured as half essay and half brief identification. No make-ups will be given. There will be some unannounced short quizzes, so bring a blue book to class each time. These show class participation and may elevate a borderline final grade. As will arriving on time, having read the weekly assignment, participating in class discussions, and courteous attentiveness to the professor and any other speaker. Cell phones must be silent and no texting is allowed.

The exams and quizzes must be submitted on blank smaller-size bluebooks (which are available at the student store). Please use pen only, as pencil writing is sometimes hard to make out.

ATTENDANCE is expected and is vital to your grade. There is no penalty for up to 3 hours absence. Absences of more than 3 hours will begin to lower your overall course grade. Students who are absent for more than 9 hours will not receive a passing grade in the course. Tardies count for one-third of an absence. Contact the professor if you are having some special problem.

No reference material is allowed during exams. Cell phones and all electronic devices must be turned off and put away, and there will be NO BATHROOM BREAKS DURING EXAMS.

Do not be overly concerned in answering your essay questions about grammar, punctuation or spelling. You will not be marked off for mistakes in those areas, although they may be called to your attention for your general benefit. What matters in these answers is your ability to discuss facts, events and ideas.

STANDARDS IN GRADING YOUR ESSAY ANSWERS:

Mastery (90 -100)(A): the essay is focused and well-organized, shows familiarity with most of the important facts and ideas related to the question, references material from the textbook, analyzes the information, and reaches a clear conclusion.

Moderate (80 -89)(B): the essay displays familiarity with many of the important facts and ideas related to the question, references some material from the textbook, and reaches a conclusion based on that information.

Basic (70-79)(C): the essay is of adequate length and although it shows a minimal familiarity with some of the important facts and ideas related to the question, it does not reference material from the textbook, makes inadequate analysis, and/or reaches no logical conclusion.

Unsatisfactory (60-59)(D): the essay is too brief, shows minimal familiarity with any of the important facts and ideas related to the question, does not reference material from the textbook, makes inadequate analysis, and/or reaches no logical conclusion.

Failing (Below 60)(F): the essay shows no familiarity with any of the important facts and ideas related to the question, does not reference material from the textbook, makes inadequate analysis, and/or reaches no logical conclusion.

STUDENT LEARNING OUTCOMES (SLO)
