

ESL 3 A Writing and Grammar # 3237 SYLLABUS Spring 2014

Monday and Wednesday 6:50 – 10:00 pm Start Date: February 10, 2014

CSB 102 B

Instructor: Kristin Jackson

email: ourcaptain@gmail.com

please put "Mission College student" in the subject

Office Hours: 35 minutes before each class, 6:15 – 6:50 in our classroom if it is available, or right outside.

Course Description: This course introduces students to lengthy paragraphs and the short essay format. Students will also review and learn intermediate grammar. This class requires college-level reading and critical thinking. Reading, writing, and good note taking are part of every class meeting.

- Materials Required: This course has TWO required books: Writing Matters! Student Book: Introduction to Writing and Grammar by Lorraine McClelland and Patricia Marcotte, McGraw-Hill ELT publisher, 2002, ISBN-13: 9780072552799; ISBN: 0072552794. (Do not confuse this book with "Writing Matters" by Rebecca Moore Howard. That is NOT our book. Ours has a green, blue, and yellow cover.) Weaving It Together 3 by Milada Broukal, Third Edition (there are orange slices on the cover), Cengage Learning publisher, 2010, ISBN-13: 9781424057405 A bilingual or English-only dictionary is also recommended. Bring plenty of 8 ½ x 11" notebook paper to every class. Do all of your homework on this standard size as well. Please always skip lines so that I have a place to write corrections and comments.

Prerequisite: Either successfully complete ESL 2A or be put into this level based on the placement test for new students entering Mission College.

Grading Policy: *This class is a credit / no credit course. No letter grade is given. However, passing requires the equivalent of "C" or better work. A "C" is 70%. In order to pass this class, you must reach a score of 140 points out of 200 (actually 210, so that everyone has an extra 10 as "insurance"). During the semester, we will write ten (10) high quality, in-class short essays, eight (8) smaller writing exercises, and a final exam short essay to demonstrate understanding and use of the information from class. You must show your ability to write a well-organized, college-level, three-paragraph short essay on a given topic, using correct English and appropriate vocabulary. In addition, you must do reading and writing at home. We will check these together in class. Of course, you must be in class. See the attendance section for more information. I will not accept essays brought from home as a substitute for in-class writings, nor may you do one at a later date. If you miss the in-class work, you receive a zero (0) on it. Please be good about your attendance.

Grading: Eight (8) in-class writings to show understanding of grammatical points at 5 points each (total 40 points), ten (10) in-class short essays at 10 points each (total 100 points), and the final short essay exam at 70 points. This totals 210. You need 70% of 200 (not 210) to pass the class, so you need 140 or more points to pass. The extra 10 points is "insurance" for students in case you are absent for a test or have a bad night.

Your Responsibility: If you are absent, it is your responsibility to get the class notes from a classmate. Also, you must do the homework even if you missed class. Do not fall behind. Poor attendance will hurt you. If you must miss class, arrive late, or leave early, you will miss information and opportunities. It is your responsibility to get all of the information you missed. Exchange contact information with several classmates just in case you miss any information. Remember, you may not do in-class essays outside of class or on a later date.

Academic Honesty: All work must be your own. Do not copy your homework or test answers from any outside source. Do not copy from our book, the Internet, any magazine, book, newspaper, dictionary, or another student. Plagiarism, claiming someone else's work as your own, is a serious offense in all schools. If you submit any work that is not your own, you will automatically receive a zero on that assignment. Plagiarism on the final essay will result in an automatic FAILURE of the course.

Classroom Rules: Please do not bring food into the class. Water or coffee is acceptable, but you must clean up when you leave. Do not leave any containers, gum wrappers, etc. behind. Please put your phone on silent during class. Remember, we have a large class, so a little noise from everyone makes a big noise in the class. Everyone needs to hear the instruction, and the instructor needs to hear you. Please be courteous to your classmates and instructor, and of course, pay attention. Please do not talk when the instructor is talking. Phone calls, text messages, web surfing, etc. can be done before and after class or during the break.

Special Needs: If you have any special needs, such as difficulty seeing or hearing so that you need to sit near the front, or have any learning disabilities so that you need extra time for a test, feel free to let me know. Special seating arrangements are no problem. Also, if you wish to contact the Disabled Students Programs and Services on campus, they can be very helpful, especially if you require extra time for a test. Refer to the schedule of classes for more information.

Final Exam: Our final exam will be on Monday, June 9, from 8 to 10 pm. If you cannot attend, you must inform me before that time. If you do not take the final, you cannot pass the class. Your final must be written in a large size bluebook, available in the campus bookstore.

Attendance Reminder: Attendance is critical. If you are not here, you will miss the instruction that you need to pass the class. If you are often late, leave early, or miss class altogether, do not expect to pass the course. Important: If you miss three days of class, I will drop you from the course on the night of your third absence. School policy allows you to miss only (six) 6 hours of this class. I will generously not drop you after a second absence, but the third. On your third absence, I will drop you. Arriving late or leaving early will also count as hours missed. If you miss more than six (6) hours, you will be excluded from the class. Refunds, financial aid, drop dates, etc. are your responsibility. I believe that the last day to drop with a refund is September 8, and the last day for you to drop the class with a "W" is November 17. Please see the Schedule of Classes for full details.

IMPORTANT: You may attempt a class only three (3) times. A "W" is an attempt. Again, please see the Schedule of Classes for full details.

No Class: Mission College is closed February 14 - 17 for President's Day; March 31 for Cesar Chavez Day; Spring Break April 7 - 13; Memorial Day May 26. No classes will meet on those days. Please see the Schedule of Classes for a full list of school holidays. There are also no classes Tuesday May 27, although the college will be open that day.

Class Schedule. I will distribute a full class schedule by the end of the second week of class. This will have more details about dates for book work and in-class writing.

STUDENT LEARNING OUTCOMES (SLO)

Students need to demonstrate competency with all three objectives to pass this course.

Upon completion of this course, students will produce writing that incorporates low-intermediate grammatical structures.

#2)

Upon completion of this course, students will analyze a prompt and demonstrate prewriting strategies.

#3)

Upon completion of this course, students will produce a cohesive 150 word paragraph which has a topic sentence, supporting sentences, and a conclusion.

If you need help or feedback while you are working on your assignments, visit The Learning Center, located on the 1st floor of the Library building. Tutors there will assist you in many areas: writing, reading, research, and homework assignments. The Learning Center is free for all students. 818-364-7754

I will refer the entire class to the Learning Center. You will receive an email about this. You do not have to go. It is optional.

I appreciate your dedication and hard work.
